

Center for Creative Arts
Seventh Grade Summer Reading List 2018-19

Students are required to read THREE books from the list below.

All books published in 2017.

Books One and Two: Students should read two fiction books of their choice from the list below. ONE of the fiction books must be realistic fiction, as noted with an asterisk (*), and one can be any of the other fiction choices.

Book Three: Students should read one nonfiction book of their choice from the provided list below.

→ For all three books, students must complete the annotation assignment, provided by Ms. Bullard, which they will submit in the first week of school in August.

Fiction List (Read two)

Lucky Broken Girl by Ruth Behar*
York by Laura Ruby
See You in the Cosmos by Jack Cheng*
Wishtree by Katherine Applegate*
Hello, Universe by Erin Entrada Kelly*
Beyond the Bright Sea by Lauren Wolk
Orphan Island by Laurel Snyder
Clayton Byrd Goes Underground by Rita Williams-Garcia
The Stars Beneath Our Feet by David B. Moore
Bronze and Sunflower by Cao Wenxuan
The Lottery's Plus One by Emma Donoghue*
The End of the Wild by Nicole Helget*
Felix Yz by Lisa Bunker
The Epic Fail of Arturo Zamora by Pablo Cartaya*
Amina's Voice by Hena Khan*
Short by Holly Goldberg Sloan*
The Someday Birds by Sally J. Pla*
Refugee by Alan Gratz

Nonfiction List (Read one)

Stormy Seas by Mary Beth Leatherdale
The 57 Bus by Dashka Slater
The March Against Fear by Ann Bausum
Vincent and Theo by Deborah Heiligman
Undefeated by Steve Sheinkin
Survivors' Club by Michael Bornstein
Twelve Days in May by Larry Dane Brimmer
Isaac the Alchemist by Mary Losure
Bound by Ice by Sandra Neil Wallace
Death on the River of Doubt by Samantha Seiple
How Dare the Sun Rise by Sandra Uwiringiyimana
The Playbook by Kwame Alexander
Girl Rising by Tanya Lee Stone
Girl Code by Andrea Gonzalez
Higher, Steeper, Faster by Lawrence Goldstone
Eyes of the World by Marc Aronson
Fault Lines in the Constitution by Cynthia Levinson
The Whydah by Martin W. Sandler
Pathfinders by Tonya Bolden